

Wiretapping and eavesdropping in voice over IP will only stifle innovation in this field and help America fall behind other nations eager to gain a leg up in the technological world. It is still much to premature to institute such measures and the shape of voip is still forming each day...